

QUOTES BY SWAMI PARTHASARATHY

The role of Vedanta is to free you from infatuation to celebrities and educate you on the Eternities.

Inclusive love, not exclusive attachment is the unfoldment of heaven.

Your home should be the centre, not the boundary of your affection.

Modern civilized ones without self-development are but intelligent savages living in spiritual slums.

You get what you deserve, not what you desire.

You are more concerned about your act of kindness than thought of kindness.

We are not human beings that need a spiritual life. We are spiritual beings that go through a human life.

Give your personality a lift, you lift the whole world.

Nothing in the world can distress
you except yourself.

Thinking is an art, a skill, a technique. You must learn and practice it as you would the violin, golf or bridge.

Transform your unilateral passion into universal adoration.

Raise yourself by yourself, you make yourself, you mar yourself.

The law of life is that the mind should be at rest while the body engages in action.

The quality to gain knowledge is awareness of your ignorance.

If you cannot manage yourself, you cannot manage anything else.

Intelligence is acquired from schools and universities while the intellect is developed by oneself.

Humans need an intellect to resolve the dilemma of choice and act.

A person thinking rationally today is a needle in a haystack.

The soul of religion has been slain and people are hugging on to its carcass.

It is not the world that distresses
you but how you relate to it.

The mind plays havoc. Use your intellect to overpower it.

Do not lose the treasure of your Self for the pleasure of the senses.
